Rifle and Pistol Matches Are Included Among Highlights

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! Announcing the gala outing to be presented to members of the Warren Field and Stream Club and their families next Sunday at Wilder Field.

Come Sunday, September 24th, one of the most outstanding and most complete lineups of outdoor activities will be presented by the Field and Stream Club to members and their friends and families. This club, with a membership totaling more than 1150 sportsmen, is prepared to show the people some of the common, but less well known, subjects of the sport world. For more than two months, members have been on the job, preparing for the big event.

One of the many highlights will include shooting matches with .22 calibre rifles and pistols; 30 calibre rifles; and .38 and .45 calibre handguns. Pistol shooters from Jamestown, New York, Oil City and Erie, Pennsylvania, and other sections are planning to attend the club's outing.

John Schuler and Paul Yagge, who are in charge of the pistol shooting, have stated that the competitors who are classified will have an opportunity to fire the 50-yard slow fire; 25-yard times fire; and the 25 yard rapid fire targets. Matches will be held with the .22 calibre, the .38 calibre and the .45 calibre handguns.

For the amateur pistol shooter, or those who wish to distinguish themselves as pistol shots, there will be opportunity available for the sportsmen to shoot ten slow fire shots at 25 yards. Each shooter will be given an opportunity of firing at as many targets as he wishes, handguns and .22 calibre ammunition being furnished.

Prizes in this event will be awarded under the Lewis Class system and every participant will have an equal opportunity. It has also been stated that any sportsman owning any hand gun may bring them and use his own gun.

The Outing will start immediately at 10:00 a. m. next Sunday, September 24th, at Wilder Field. Members, their friends and families, are cordially invited to attend the affair.

There was no confirmation here of a broadcast by the French national radio that Aachen had been abandoned by the Germans, but Hodges' tank and Doughboy teams had battered 12 to 15 miles beyond the border city toward the Rhine in their smashes from the south-east.

Fierce German counterattacks had been smashed and a German broadcast said heavy fighting had developed at Duren, only 20 miles from Cologne, Germany's fourth city.

Ten to 15 miles north of Aachen, Hodges' left wing which swept through Maasricht was believed to be almost to the German frontier.

BULLETIN
Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, Sept. 18—(P)—Additional airborne reinforcements and supplies were landed by glider in Holland today, headquarters announced.

Another First Army bolt was driven into the Siegfried defenses in the pillbox-studded fir forests beyond Ritt, southeast of Aachen.

To the south of Aachen the First Army pushed a half mile or so into Germany at two more places, near the villages of Echtenach and Bollendorf, four miles apart and eight to 12 miles southwest of Trier. This broadened the base of the 10-mile deep wedge in Germany in this area.

German troops, charging in waves, fought to close the holes in the line in the Aachen sector and halt the American push toward Cologne and the Rhine. The enemy unleashed some of the heaviest artillery fire the Americans have encountered since they stormed the beaches of Normandy, but Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' men dug in and held their ground.

Finnish Fury Against Nazis Is Mounting

There were strong indications that action could be expected momentarily. Two Finnish brigades and Russian troops are fighting the Germans in northern Finland, where the Nazi-set fires blazed, Finnish advisers said. Villages and farms were reported left aflame by withdrawing Germans in the Suomalainen district and at Kuusamo, south of the Arctic circle near the Russian frontier.

A report that two Nazi destroyers fired on a Finnish passenger plane flying over the Gulf of Bothnia from Helsinki to Stockholm was interpreted here as an indication the Germans were attempting to blockade Finland.

EDDIE CANTOR AND BIG CAST IN SHOW BUSINESS AT LIBRARY THEATRE TODAY AND TUESDAY

Sparkling with originality and gay with old-time song hits and scenes from musical comedies of the period, Eddie Cantor's "Show Business" comes to the screen of the Library Theatre today to prove itself one of the season's most entertaining tunefilms.

Eddie Cantor, George Murphy, Joan Davis, Nancy Kelly and Constance Moore are starred in the offering, which is the story of a group of show folk over a fifteen-year period. Cantor produced the film and wrote into it many authentic incidents of his own career and those of the other principals. This method lends authenticity to the whole production.

Murphy plays the role of a successful burlesque star who takes the frightened young Cantor under his wing when the latter sets out to make his debut as an actor. Their professional ups and downs, their teaming with two girls in a quartette act that leads them to fame, and the complications of their respective romances, comprise the human story-plot. Played against the colorful background of vaudeville and Broadway musical comedy of the period, the story provides an unusually interesting and realistic piece of film fare. Here today and Tuesday.

WAR BOND REDEMPTION TO UNDERGO CHANGE

Starting October 2, a new system of redeeming war bonds will be in effect, according to announcements published today by the Titusville banks.

All the holder needs to do is to notify himself at a qualified commercial bank. The bank is authorized to pay him the bond's value immediately without charge to him. This will avoid the delays imposed by the present system which requires certification of the holder's request for redemption after which the holder must send the bond to the Treasury or Federal Reserve Bank for redemption.

The new system will apply only to bonds held by individuals and to bonds of War Bond Series E and Savings BBond Series A, B, C, and D. It will not apply to Series F or G bonds. Series E bonds are non-deemable for the first 60 days after the issue date; the new system does not relax this requirement.

The banks will be paid by the government for rendering this service.

“TONE OF V-DAY CELEBRATION

“Cheers for the boys in Europe—prayers for the boys in the Pacific.”

That is the overwhelming sentiment of America for the tone of its V-Day celebration when Germany surrenders, as shown in a nationwide survey of V-Day plans just completed by the National Safety Council.

Reports to the council from cities and states across the country reveal a virtually unanimous aim to celebrate V-Day with Thanksgiving and prayer, and with sober, sensible rejoicing, rather than with boisterous, unrestrained hilarity.

The survey discloses a widespread belief by public officials, police chiefs, industrial concerns and civic leaders that proper leadership, exerted now, can divert the public's emotional reaction to victory in Europe from riotous and reckless celebration to dignified and purposeful observance, and thus make of V-Day a day of commemoration and dedication.

Accordingly, there is a strong accent on religious services in V-Day programs now being planned, and repeated plans and suggestions for bars and taverns to be closed. In many places the ringing of church bells, rather than the shriek of sirens, will bring the news of victory.

“There very evidently is a definite feeling throughout the nation,” said Col. John Stilwell, president of the council, “that too many American boys have fallen and too many are still in danger to make V-Day a day of carousal.”

The council's survey shows that most communities already have under way definite and coordinated plans to prevent violence, accidents and destruction of property by the following emergency control measures:

1. Closing of bars and taverns on V-Day and V-Night—in some cases by voluntary action of tavern keepers.
2. Strengthening of police, fire and other protective agencies by use of auxiliary and reserve personnel, with cancellation of all leaves and a call for full 24-hour duty.
3. Blocking off of congested and parade areas, with routes kept open for emergency equipment.
4. Closing of schools, industrial plants, department stores and other places of business—but only after special V-Day ceremonies have kept pupils and workers off the streets until emergency control measures have been established by police. Some plants will not close.
5. Opening of churches, with special services, either demonstration or united.
6. Restricted leaves for personnel at nearby Army and Navy bases, with special ceremonies on posts and stations.
7. Guarding of fire alarm boxes to prevent false alarms.
8. Expanded transportation facilities to reduce congestion.

The National Safety Council's own V-Day suggestion is:

DON'T MAKE V-DAY A SPREE DAY!

REPORTORIAL INSTINCT

One of the most arresting quotes from the latest Quebec conference came, to our mind, in the first day's story when Mr. Roosevelt called out to Mr. Churchill, Eleanor is here.”

This was almost in the class of astronomical phenomena. Except for the trip to Monterey in 1943, the orbits of our widely traveled chief executive and his peripatetic first lady have not joined in recent years.

Naturally we don't know what brought this conjunction about. But we are inclined to credit it to the journalistic instinct of Mrs. Roosevelt, an industrious columnist. She has seen the bottoms of coal mines and the Pacific fronts. She has talked to share croppers and world leaders. She has rubbed shoulders, to say nothing of noses, with many peoples. But she never has had a first-hand, reportorial idea of what is said and done at one of those Roosevelt-Churchill conferences.

Probably such a lack of coverage was just more than the natural curiosity of a working newspaperwoman could bear.

The Nazi government has ordered all able-bodied male barbers and hairdressers to the front and has turned over domestic shaves and haircuts to women. The Nazis have reason to believe, from recent happenings in France, that several battalions of Delilahs must have been snipping away at the locks of the once-mighty Wehrmacht.

Definite steps are to be taken to give Franklin a real athletic center at Miller-Sibley Field, of which the whole district may well be proud. Many local sports followers are still hopefully looking forward to the day when a similar announcement will be made in Warren.

Many in Warren who loved and respected him for his kindly disposition and four-square philosophy will be grieved to learn of the passing over the weekend of N. A. Hoagvall, pioneer hardware merchant of the community.

Plans to Assure Workers of Jobs in the Cut Back Period

The War Manpower Commission moved today to assure war-workers continued employment through the war production cutback and reconversion period by instituting an immediate program which will enable industries now engaged in war work to set up machinery for over-night conversion to peacetime production, according to Mr. Levine, Manager of the United States Employment Service office here.

Frank L. McNamee, Regional Director of the War Manpower Commission, has arranged for war plants to put a limited number of their engineers, technicians and experimental workers into a so-called conversion department so that when the day of victory comes and armament is no longer needed in the amounts so necessary to the war, the greater number of industries in WMC Region III, which includes Pennsylvania, will be prepared to swing immediately into peacetime pursuits.

McNamee stressed the importance of this move which will go far toward supporting the economic life of the great communities in Region III as well as making it unnecessary for persons presently engaged in war work to seek new jobs in what are now less essential industries.

In notifying area directors throughout the region of his decision, McNamee said: “You are requested to take immediate steps to permit the approval of employer applications for assignment of a limited number of workers to planning civilian production of items, models and types that can be most quickly produced as soon as manpower, facilities, and materials are available. Because industry is highly concentrated and the facilities for the conduct of such planning are frequently established in critical labor market areas, no limitation should be placed upon the conduct of such planning because of area classification. The guiding principles for the authority of such planning should be:

1. The assignment of workers shall be limited to planning engineers and technicians and shall not constitute a drain upon production workers needed for continued war output.
2. No civilian production planning shall be undertaken which would interfere with war work of high urgency. The basis of the above policy is the fact that, while war production has the first claim on the nation's manpower, at the same time there should be sufficient advance planning for resumption of civilian production to minimize the severity of the reconversion shock. Such planning can proceed at the present time through the assignment of an almost insignificant number of individuals to this work.”

“Under the plan which we have now developed, war workers will be assured of continued employment no matter what armament production cutbacks are instituted,” McNamee said.

“Employers who swung their entire plants from civilian production to the war effort,” McNamee continued, “should find little difficulty in arranging to get back to their original production. The great demand for many items, formerly manufactured in this region should make it unnecessary for any employer now engaged in war work with few exceptions to lay off any workers during the reconversion period.

Workers who moved their families from other regions or locations within this region will be able to continue in their new jobs without the necessity for starting over again in a post-war industrial world,” McNamee said.

“Many of the firms I understand are ready for the ‘go ahead’ signal to switch immediately to civilian production. In many of these plants the things being made for the armies will continue to be made for civilian consumption.

“Firms now engaged in manufacturing automotive equipment have only to replace their old dies and start work immediately on civilian goods. Others will of course have to find a new product and that is the purpose of allowing the use of some workers now engaged in essential industry to devote their time to a basic minimum of reconversion planning during this period preceding the curtailment of all-out production.

“Of course at this time, there can be no actual conversion in Philadelphia or other labor shortage areas in Region III. We are still in desperate need for some munitions, trucks and other war materials.

“So badly are they needed that in a recent landing on enemy territory, the request of the army and navy personnel directing the invasion for ammunition and equipment, the amount they thought necessary for a swift and successful completion of their appointed task, had to be cut by one half because of receding stock-piles of these all-important items.

“Let workers in war industries rest assured that the War Manpower Commission is making every effort to prevent any wholesale shift of employment when the happy day comes that war production is no longer needed,” Mr. McNamee said.

What's the Rush?

IT'S THE TELEPHONE RUSH. Every night thousands of service men and women dash to the nearest telephones to talk with families and friends at home. Most of the Long Distance calls from camps and naval stations are crowded into a few short hours.

Many circuits are likely to be crowded at that time and it helps a lot when you keep the lines clear from 7 to 10 for the service men. That's about the best time for most of them to call.

Gifts For Soldiers Must Be Mailed With Promptness

Postmaster James K. Bell reports that the mailing of Christmas parcels to men overseas in the armed services is moving in good shape but that the number so far sent has not been as great as anticipated. He urges that those mailing packages to men in the Pacific area be prompt in getting their mailing done as the distance is great and to insure delivery in time for Christmas mailing should not be delayed.

He also emphasizes the fact that any one person may mail only one package each week to any one soldier. However, any member of a family may mail a parcel, one each week.

Postmaster Bell also stresses the following points in mailing of packages:

First: Where relatives and friends know that the person in the armed service is serving in a remote theatre the gift should be posted as early as possible in the mailing period. Besides assuring delivery by Christmas to those serving at far-distant points, this will lessen the possibility of a long jam in the closing days of the 30-day period.

Second: Correct packaging is important. These gifts mean a lot to the sender and to men and women overseas, Mr. Bell explained.

Packages may be 36 inches in length and girth combined, but cannot be over 15 inches the long way.

Early mailers are conforming quite well with the regulations, the postmaster said.

The task of assuring delivery by Christmas of the gifts sent to service men and women abroad constitutes the greatest burden ever placed upon any postal organization anywhere.

Last year approximately 20,000,000 packages from every city and hamlet in the United States were sent overseas. In the 30 days which began yesterday, postoffices throughout the United States must receive, process and dispatch an estimated 70,000,000 gift parcels to all parts of the world.

Rapidly changing battle lines growing out of the progress of our fighting forces in themselves will add new difficulties in the path of prompt delivery of parcels, postal officials explain.

Tiona Fair Is a Real Success In Every Way

Saturday the annual Tiona Community Fair drew out the greatest crowd in its history. Blessed with delightful weather the residents of the Tiona section turned out en masse for the event. Exhibitors, too, brought to the fair the best of their fruits and flowers and every department had a most complete and pleasing display. Never had there been so many exhibitors and the canned and baked goods entries were many and varied. In the needlework department there were some beautiful specimens of work displayed and some of the entries were out of the ordinary.

One of the big features of the day was the horse pulling contest. There were a number of entries and in the light team contest the horses owned by Jack Kibby took first prize with the others winning prizes as follows: Leo Grand, second; Fred Anderson, third and Ira Whitton, fourth. In the heavy team class horses owned by Chet Anderson, second; S. Steele, third and Carl Lawrence, fourth.

Those who had charge of the fair and its various features are much gratified by the success attained and for their efforts they have been receiving the congratulations of residents of the community.

Cops Escort Gypsies Out Of City Limits

It really isn't every automobile party that gets a police escort. In the city limits but Saturday two carloads of visitors were spotted unloading from two cars. One car dumped nine passengers and the other, five, at a local dining car. The police gave the folks the once over and then invited them to finish their meal and grab a toothpick and pick their teeth just outside the city limits. They did.

Saturday the coppers sent another dog to the happy hunting grounds and a boy emulating Daniel Boone with an air gun lost his gun to a copper who spotted him shooting the weapon in the borough. Boys who played football on the street also came in for interruption by the coppers who gave them a lecture and warned them against repeating the offense.

And two more did a bit of crashing on Conewango avenue. One car was attempting to pass the other as the car ahead of him made a left turn. Bang, wham! Both cars were insured and the bent and twisted fenders will be straightened out and the insurance folks will pay the bill.

Dragons Blast Franklin High For Third Win, 33 to 0

Three Squads Trample Over Nursery; Air and Ground Assaults Prove Invaluable

With a three team threat, Warren High's Dragons smashed to their third win of the season Saturday at Russell Field, trouncing Franklin, 33-0. Coach Leidig sent three separate squads into the fray, with each crossing the Franklin goal.

The Dragons got their first score early in the first stanza when the high schoolers trapped the Nursery boys deep in their own territory, and were forced to punt, the kick going only to the Franklin 27 yard line. With Lucia calling the plays, the Dragons started for the goal with a series of runs and then passes. Adams crossed the line for the first score, taking a ten-yard pass from Lucia. The Warren boys were far too powerful for the Franklins, showing what their rigid training rules accomplished for them.

Warren's second score came after a beautiful double reverse and a pass to Lucia for the score. Warren's Red Lee had taken a Franklin kick on the 24 yard line and ran back to the nine. Lee then took the ball to the first score, reversing play was used to tally. Lucia took the ball, lateraled to Lee, who in turn lateraled to Marti, who threw the pass to Lucia, making the score, 12-0. The Dragons then added another point on the extra point which Lee took over the line.

Franklin's only deep penetration into the Dragon territory was about 30 seconds before the half ended when Borgia threw a 48 yard pass to Lantz, who took the ball on the Warren thirty and went as far as the five yard stripe, the half ending before the next play.

At half time Harry Summers' Dragon Band marched out onto the field, forming the F for Franklin and then returning to the Dragon side, forming the Warren W and the playing of the Alma Mater by a trumpet trio. The band proved to be very impressive with their marching along with the majorettes.

In the second half, Franklin kicked to the Dragons, but the high schoolers fumbled on Franklin's 33 yard line. The Nurseryites could do nothing and were forced to kick to the Dragons on their own 35, Lucia returning to the 48 stripe. The Dragons scored again after a series of runs and a 19 yard pass from Lucia to Wilder. Dave Marti then scampered around right end for the score, making it 19-0. Red Lee came back with a line plunge to make the extra point.

Warren's fourth score came mid-way in the last period after Cooney, sub end had thrown a Franklin runner for a 10 yard loss placing the ball on the 2. Franklin punted to Bonace on the 30, who returned it to the 26. Bonace then heaved a 20 yard pass to Chuck Brown, who went over the stripe to make it 26-0.

Then came the most exciting part of the afternoon's contest. Coach Leidig sent his third squad into the game. The thirds took over on the mid-stripe and began a wild passing spree. Ed Wallaston heaved one to Bill Massa for 19 yards, bringing the ball to the 30. Wallaston threw another to Norris for a ten yard advance. Again Wallaston passed, this time to McLean for another ten yard advance. The final score came when Massa heaved one from the fifteen yard stripe to Hamilton to make the score, 32-0. Jim Bartholomew plunged the line for the extra point, ending the game.

One of the interesting notes of the game was that the Dragons were penalized eight times, seven for backfield in motion.

Next Saturday the Dragons play host to the Titusville Rockets on Russell Field.

Reporter's Notes

That Franklin pass in the second quarter with about thirty seconds remaining really set our heart thumping. We owe a prayer for that whistle. The Dragons were penalized eight times, seven for backfield in motion. Showing that the boys were really on their toes. The big smile that came over the faces of Chuck Brown and Jack Hamilton when they scored touchdowns, not to mention the look of pleasure on the faces of Adams, Lucia, and Marti when they noticed that they had crossed that little white line. The over-excited baton twirlers at half time who were a bit nervous and missed the baton. Four of the scores were made from passes. What a time we had keeping track of Warren's subs. They were all over the place, jumping with excitement. The outstanding performance of Harry Summers' Dragon band at half time, not to overlook the spirit the band injected into the game and the grandstanders. The new cheers and songs which have been added to the part of the game in which the spectators take part. The happiness which set over us when the thirds scored that fourth-quarter tally. Major Hoople's prediction of a 28-0 victory came close. The way the Dragon line held the Franklin advance. Just like hitting a stone wall. The passing was way over our expectations, not that we didn't think they'd click, but one right after another. The boys really had a field day. The sense of freedom put into the afternoon's contest when the American flag was held in mid-field and the Star Spangled Banner was played. The look on the faces of the third squaders when all their plays clicked. They couldn't figure things out.

Curtain Falls as National Forge Clips District Stars

Playing their last game of the season before one of the largest crowds at Wilder Field this year, the National Forge baseball team yesterday toppled the District All-Stars, 5-3. Dick Hines went the distance for the Forgers, giving up only four hits. For the AA-Stars, Corcoran, former PONY leaguer; Schaeffer, Jamestown Semi-pro; and Vern Group, of the Cory Merchants, composed the hurling staff.

The game was highlighted by two home runs, Harry Rosequist connecting for the Ironmen, and Les James, member of the Jamestown All-Stars, slapping one out for a four-bagger. Jimmy Morrison came through with a double and Joe Massa and Fred Gagliardi had two apiece.

In the first inning, neither team had any luck at the plate, but in the Forge half of the second, they started their scoring for the day. Harry Rosequist, first man up, hit one for a good 360 feet over the left fielders head, crossing the key-stone for the first tally of the game.

The All-Stars didn't come through in the first half of the third, so the Forgers decided they had better get a more substantial lead. Nick Creola, first up, got on base on an error, but was thrown out when Joe Massa went to first, on a fielder's choice. The next man up, Jimmy Morrison, hit a hard ball into center field for two bases, scoring Massa and making the score, 2-0. Gagliardi then singled, sending Morrison home for the third run.

In the fourth, the All-Stars tied up the ball game, bringing in three runs, on errors and with two men on, Les James singled one for a homer, tying the game at 3-3. The scoring was held down until the eighth when the Forgers again tallied. The Ironmen muffed one chance to score in the fifth with the bases loaded and only one out, but a change of pitchers stopped the Irvineites.

Came the eighth and the National Forge clinched the game, sending two more runs across the plate. Morrison walked. Rosequist was out on an attempted sacrifice. Gagliardi was intentionally passed, loading the sacks. Natale walked, sending Massa home to make the score, 3. Another run was walked home as McKinney advanced to first base. This made the score, 5-3.

No more attempts were made toward scoring, the ball game ending in the Forgers' favor, 5-3. This was the last appearance of the National Forge this season, this contest bringing the curtain down on the 1944 baseball. Thanks were given to the loyal support of the many Forge fans who so splendidly cooperated with the team and management. See you next year.

AMAZING DON HUTSON IS ROLLING AGAIN

Chicago, Sept. 18.—(P)—Football's old man river, amazing Don Hutson, is rolling again. Lured from retirement for his 10th pro season, Hutson yesterday paced the Green Bay Packers to a bitterly-fought 10 to 7 victory over the Brooklyn Tigers in the opener of the National Football League season at Milwaukee, Wis. It was the day's only contest.

DESTROYER AND TWO PATROLS LOST AT SEA

DESTROYER AND TWO PATROLS LOST AT SEA

Washington, Sept. 18.—(P)—The 1850-ton destroyer Warrington and two small coast guard patrol vessels went to the bottom at sea during last week's hurricane.

The navy, reporting the losses, said casualties from the destroyer were "heavy". The Warrington carried a normal crew of 250 officers and men. The 125-foot coast guard craft, the Jackson and the Bedloe, each had a usual complement of 35 men.

The Coast guard disclosed that survivors from the Jackson drifted for 58 hours off the Virginia coast before they were picked up.

Bug Bill:

$40,000,000

Disease-carrying insects—mosquitoes, fleas, lice, ticks—have killed or disabled more American fighting men than many a hard-fought battle.

But today, men in the tropical theaters especially are better protected against these killers than ever before—thanks to amazing new discoveries like DDT.

Spray DDT on a screen—and a fly that walks on that screen three months later dies.

Or take "Aerosol"—a new way of releasing pyrethrum in a gas. One small drop of pyrethrum, when released by means of an aerosol, will kill every "skeeter" in a room 12 x 12 x 7 in one minute!

Now the DDT and aerosols are some of the thousand and one things—in addition to the obvious items like guns, tanks, planes, and ships—that are needed to fight the world's biggest and toughest war, and which make this war so terrifically expensive.

They're going to spend part of your War Bond money this year for DDT—and other insect killers—some $40,000,000.

That money will save American lives and help shorten the war. It would be a darn good investment even if we never got a cent of it back. But we will get it back—and get more money with it.

Under those circumstances, War Bonds have a mighty strong claim on every dollar you don't have to spend for actual necessities.

Maybe you could find enough of those dollars to buy an extra Bond—today.
